

3 ways legal teams save time with Acrobat AI Assistant.

Adobe Acrobat

Legal teams often face more work than time or resources allow. There's pressure to move fast – while keeping quality high and never missing a detail – which can feel like an uphill battle.

Finding solutions to help speed up the legal and compliance process is not a new concept. As AI becomes more seamlessly integrated into our daily workflows, it's now an obvious choice to use AI as a tool to complement and enhance employee capabilities, streamline routine tasks and free up space for your team's most meaningful and impactful work.

Adobe Acrobat is already the trusted tool for creating, editing and securely sharing critical documents. With the addition of Acrobat AI Assistant, you can take your team's productivity and efficiency to the next level. AI Assistant helps teams tackle time-consuming tasks faster, enabling your department to focus on high-value work.

In this eBook, we'll explore three powerful ways AI Assistant can help your legal team work smarter:

Cut time, not accuracy, for due diligence 3

Quickly analyse contracts and proposals 4

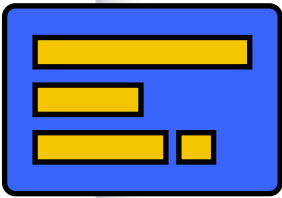

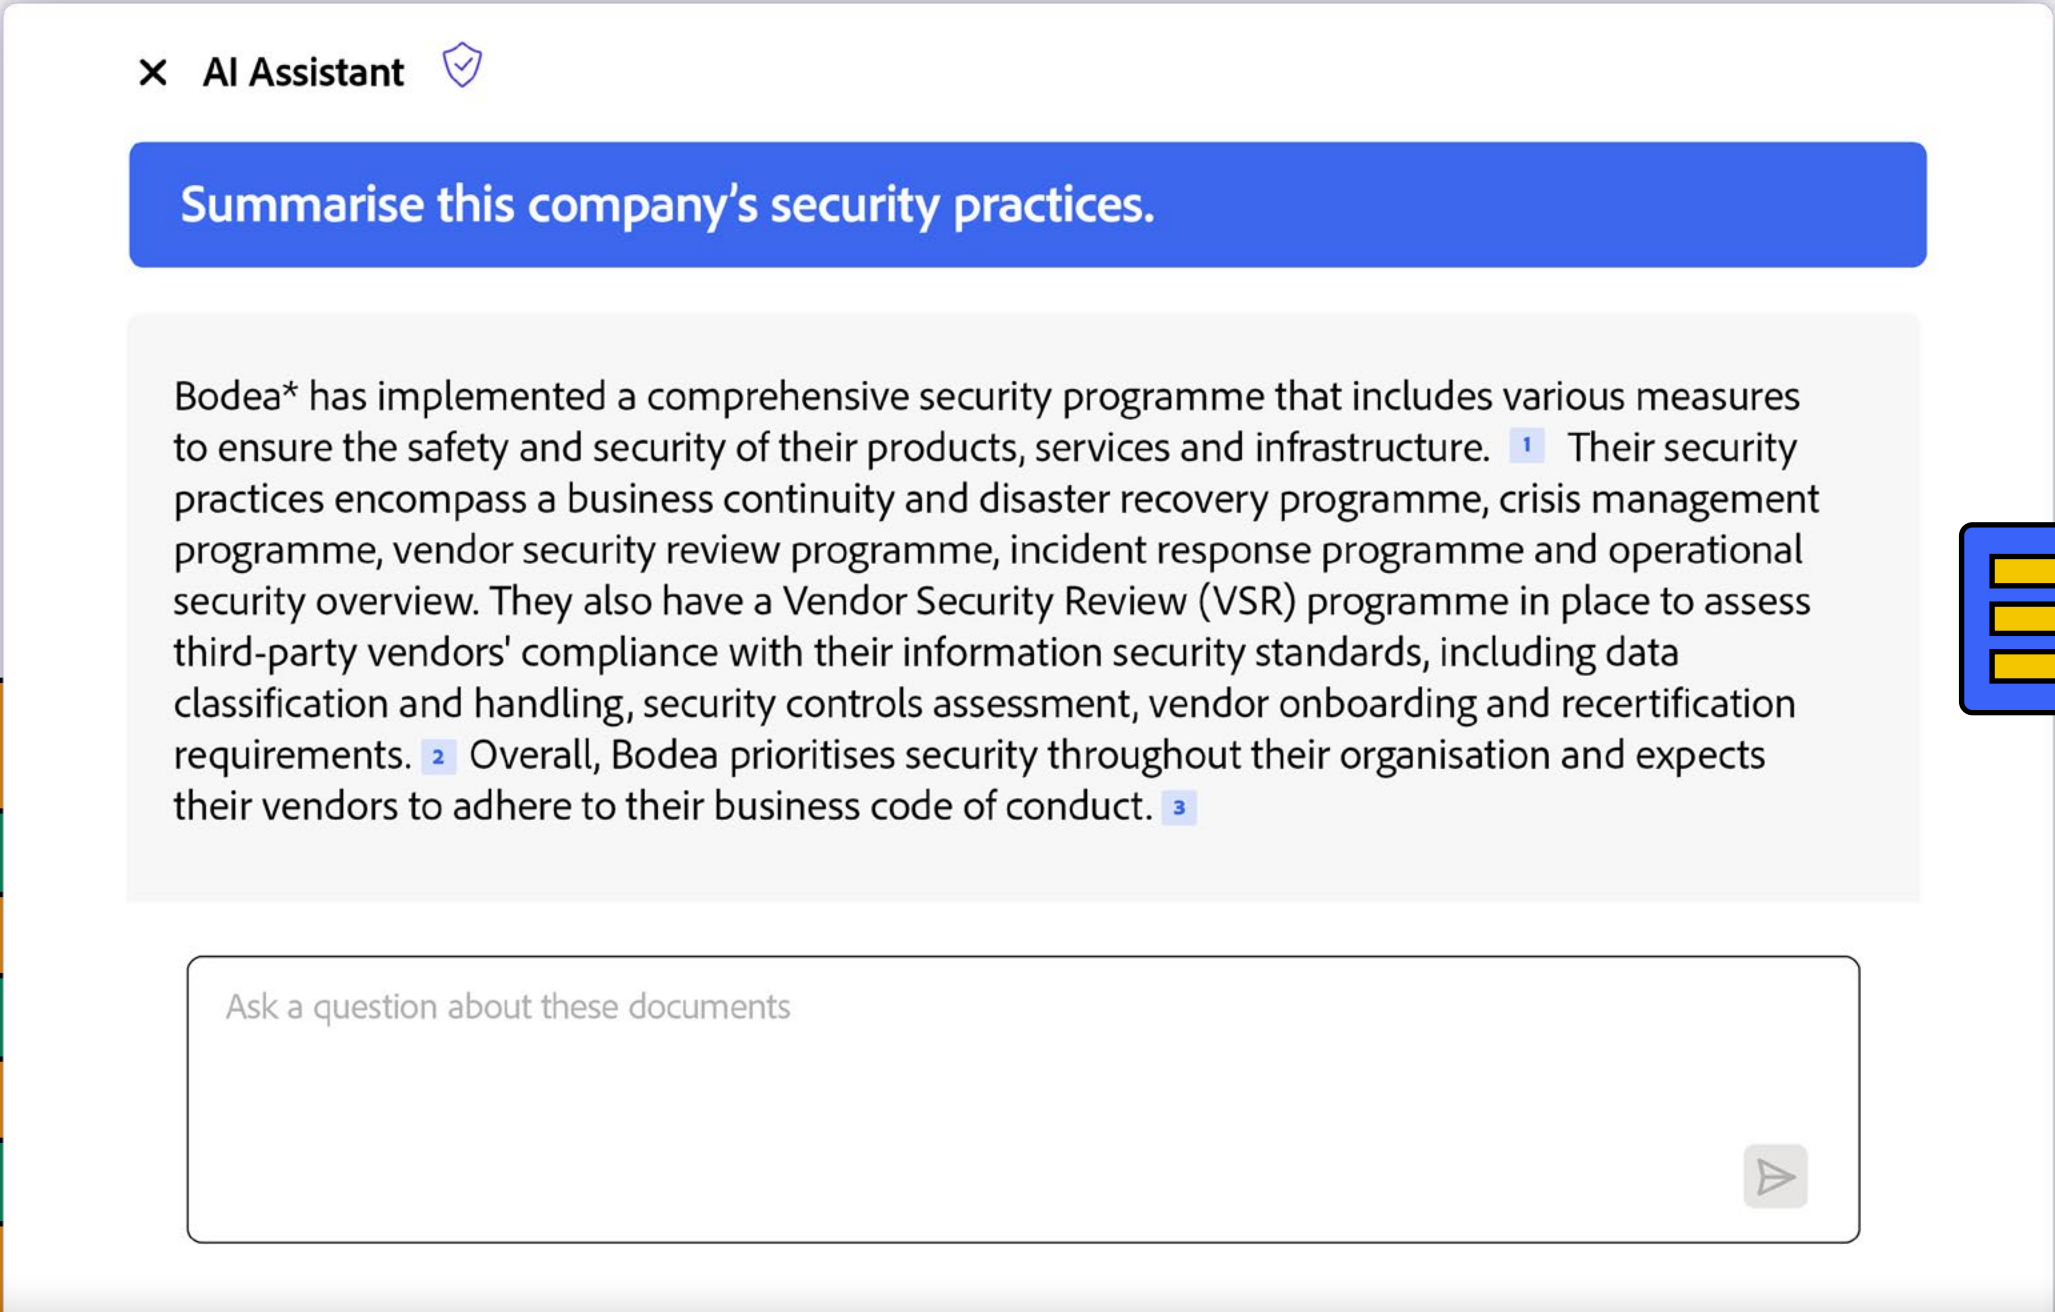

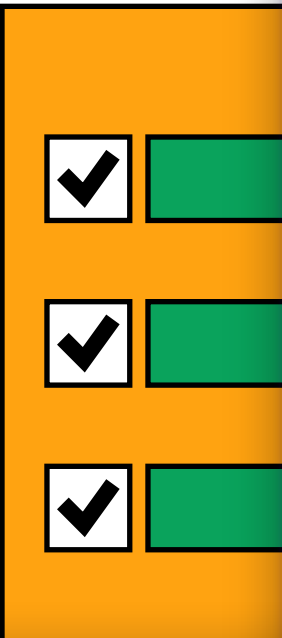

Efficiently minimise compliance risks 5

Cut time, not accuracy, for due diligence.

Handle due diligence information efficiently with a thorough process.

Challenge

Legal due diligence can be daunting, requiring extensive effort to extract, verify and assess information across numerous documents and formats. This labour-intensive process demands significant time and resources to ensure a complete risk and compliance assessment.

Solutions

AI Assistant can help legal teams:

- Accelerate mergers and acquisitions due diligence, especially when reviewing contracts, resulting in speedier business results.
- Save resources by supporting the determination of whether an acquisition should be cancelled.
- Synthesise large volumes (up to 600 pages) of business documents to start identifying, investigating and formulating a plan to mitigate risk.

Business impact

By saving time on due diligence tasks, legal teams can:

- Reclaim valuable time to focus on higher-impact, strategic priorities.
- Enhance working relationships through more effective communication and quicker response times.
- Accelerate deal velocity and close more transactions faster.
