Introducing a new way to work: Adobe Acrobat Studio.

Adobe Acrobat Studio

It's time to rethink how work gets done.

Today's organizations are under pressure to deliver more with less: fewer people, tighter budgets, and rising expectations from every corner of the business. Even with AI promising new gains, real productivity remains out of reach.

Meanwhile, over 3 trillion PDFs circulate globally, yet teams struggle to extract insights, act on information, and turn documents into high-impact work.

Disconnected systems slow teams down.

- Manual steps are multiplying. Slow reviews, copy-paste workflows, and static files waste time and energy.
- Information lives everywhere. Emails, shared drives, chat links, and niche apps create duplicative work.
- High-value deliverables take too long. Once the right information is found, circulating it with polished, on-brand content often demands extra tools or overburdened creative teams.

To meet today's demand for speed, clarity, and trust, businesses need a unified, AI-powered workspace — one that turns static documents into smarter, actionable assets.
